WELCOME

Chicago Public Library is a transformative and vibrant institution reaching every neighborhood in our city. Nearly 10 million people visited the Library in 2016, which is more visitors than to all Chicago's museums combined. But people aren't just visiting. They are connecting.

In each Chicago neighborhood, our libraries serve as community anchors. They are trusted, free, and democratic. Their welcoming spaces offer books, technology, programs, and other resources—as well as access to highly-trained professionals who can help us more fully use this wealth of information.

This is why the Chicago Public Library Foundation exists. We are dedicated to the curious. We are dedicated to you. Together with committed private donors, and in partnership with our Chicago Public Library colleagues, the Foundation's investments augment generous City of Chicago support so that the Library can continue to provide field-leading services that open minds and change lives. Whether a scholar, a young parent, a teenager, a toddler, or a senior—Chicago Public Library is there to ensure that all Chicagoans can engage in lifelong learning.

In this report, you'll learn more about what the Library and the Foundation make possible thanks to your involvement. We hope you will join us in celebrating these accomplishments, which benefit people of every age and background living and working in Chicago. And we'll also celebrate you—the dedicated and the curious. You help make Chicago Public Library truly exceptional.

Thank you, and welcome.

CYBERNAVIGATOR

CyberNavigators (CNs) are trained to provide more than 100,000 computer tutoring sessions each year to adult learners seeking to master computer, email, and Internet basics, including online job searches and applications. One-on-one sessions and classes are strengthened by Chicago DigitalLearn, an interactive online curriculum developed by the Library especially for new computer users.

“A PATRON WHO I HAVE BEEN HELPING APPLY FOR JOBS FOR ABOUT A MONTH CAME IN AND TOLD ME THAT HE GOT HIRED AT HIS DREAM JOB. HE WAS ABSOLUTELY EXCITED TO START WORKING AS A FLIGHT ATTENDANT.”
- Adina C., CyberNavigator

“I want to thank all the CPL CyberNavigators who have helped me learn and increase my computer skills this past year... They have helped my computer learning experience while allowing me to maintain my self-esteem as a senior. The digital world can be a challenge to many of us while we try to stay current with the new technology.”

Throughout our Chicago Public Library system, parents of young children (ages 0-5) will find research-based play spaces that support early learning, language, and social development. These colorful and interactive areas feature books, toys, STEAM-focused activities and—most importantly—highly trained librarians that support parents and caregivers in building their child's early literacy skills.

"There is nothing that's more important than our kids. Giving them a quality education from day one and helping provide their parents with the tools to be consistent and active partners in their children's education is the best investment any of us can make. Whether it is pre-K in our schools or programming in our libraries, we are giving every child the support they need in their early years to ensure their success in college, career, and in life."

ONE BOOK, ONE CHICAGO

From October to April each year, Chicagoans come together around one book and its central themes. A dynamic range of programming is offered in each neighborhood, and readers explore the book from multiple perspectives—whether imagined in literature, or synthesized in music and art. The 2015-16 selection, The Third Coast by Thomas Dyja, explores Chicago history, philanthropy, and giving as primary themes.

These “hands-on, minds-on” programs are just one way that the Library brings science, technology, engineering, art and math to children in every Chicago neighborhood. STEAM comes to life with family science nights, robot clubs, field trips to the Museum of Science & Industry, discovery kits that families can check out for experimenting and discovering at home — and much more!

“ScienceConnections at Chicago Public Library allows science learning to take hold and grow around kids’ interests. The Museum of Science and Industry is proud to partner with Chicago Public Library to support the goals of ScienceConnections programming through hands-on, experiential learning opportunities for children and families year-round.”

RAHM'S READERS SUMMER LEARNING CHALLENGE

The Summer Learning Challenge is an award-winning program designed and delivered in partnership with the Museum of Science & Industry. Each summer, more than 100,000 Chicago children challenge themselves to read for at least 20 minutes daily and complete exciting STEAM-focused projects—and studies have shown that summer learning helps these kids fight the loss of academic gains during out-of-school time.

CPL LIBRARIANS UNDERTAKE 20-30 HOURS OF PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT EACH YEAR TO PROVIDE THOUSANDS OF FREE, STEAM-FOCUSED PROGRAMS.

"Rahm's Readers Summer Learning Challenge is leveraging community partnerships, volunteers and strong family engagement to deliver...high-quality summer learning opportunities on a citywide scale."

"REGARDLESS OF GRADE LEVEL, WE CAN SIMPLY FOCUS ON GROWTH, FINDING SMALL VICTORIES ON A DAILY BASIS."

— Joseph D., Teacher in the Library

The program "not only provides essential academic support to children and their families, but also provides the one-on-one attention around learning that many children simply do not receive at school or at home and that is critical to success."

— Urban Libraries Council
